New Year
Message from the Pastor

Currently in movie theaters is the story of Cambridge University physicist Stephen Hawking, and his battle with the debilitating illness Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), also known as "Lou Gehrig's disease."

In his best-selling book A Brief History of Time, Hawking theorized that time has no beginning and no end; time exists from eternity, to eternity. Hawking is correct in his description, but he is describing the wrong thing. For, it is not time itself which has no beginning and no end, but the Creator of time, the eternal God.

God has no beginning and no end; God exists from eternity, to eternity. It is difficult to put this concept into words, but this is how Moses expresses the eternity of God in Psalm 90:1-2: "Lord, You have been our dwelling place throughout all generations. Before the mountains were born or You brought forth the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting, You are God."

Contrary to Hawking's theory that time is infinite and eternal, the Scriptures report that the phenomenon of time was created by God: "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth . . . And God said, 'Let there be lights in the expanse of the sky to separate the day from the night, and let them serve as signs to mark seasons, days, and years" (Genesis 1:1, 14).

So, the Bible tells us that the steady march of time had a definite beginning, and it will also have a definite end, at the end of all things. : "But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. The heavens will disappear with a roar; the elements will be destroyed by fire, and the earth and everything in it will be laid bare. . . That day will bring about the destruction of the heavens by fire, and the elements will melt in the heat" (2 Peter 3:10, 12).

Like a clock that is wound and slowly progresses through the hours, God has set time into motion, and He has fixed a certain point at which time will end. This is not only true in the grand scheme of the universe, but also for each of us as individuals. As Psalm 139:16 says, "All the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to pass."

God has allotted to each of us a precious treasure: a certain amount of time, to serve Him here on earth.

God has set your life into motion, and He has allotted to you a certain number of days. As Psalm 31:15 says, "My times are in your hands," and Psalm 90:12 says, "Teach us to number our days aright." God has fixed a time when your earthly life will end and He will take you out of the realm of time and into His eternal kingdom.

While you remain here on earth, your most precious possession is the time God has allotted you. The old song says, "If I could put time in a bottle." But, you cannot halt the unyielding march of days. Like a clock ticking away, time progresses invariably. Like a precious treasure, your days on earth are spent, never to be returned or relived. You cannot "put time in a bottle," you cannot save up extra time for the future. And you cannot borrow or buy extra time, as Jesus says in Matthew 6:27, "Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life?"

Your Master is returning, the clock is running, your time on earth is precious. Make the most of every opportunity—use the irreplaceable treasure of your time to serve Him.

Jesus told the Parable of the Talents (Matthew 25:14-30), about three men, each given a certain amount of money by their master to invest and use while the master was away on a trip. And when he returned, two of the servants had wisely used the money and gotten a good return. But, one of the servants, wicked and lazy, hid his portion away, did not use it, had not gained anything for his master.

Like the master in the parable, God has allotted to each of us a precious treasure: a certain amount of time, to serve Him here on earth. And when He comes again, He expects to see that we each have used our time wisely and well, that we each have invested our time to serve Him and spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

St. Paul says in Colossians 4:5, "Make the most of every opportunity." When God calls for an accounting of the time allotted to you, will He commend you for making the most of every opportunity, for serving the Lord with gladness, for giving to Him and His service the proper portion of your life?

St. Paul says in 1 Corinthians 7:29, "Brothers, the time is short." Another year has passed, so quickly. Over this past year good resolutions and good intentions have fallen by the way. The precious treasure of time has too often been wasted.

The Lord will bless you in the year to come, and finally grant you everlasting time in the eternal bliss of heaven.

Jesus says in Revelation 22:7, "Behold, I am coming quickly!" Your Master is returning, the clock is running, your time on earth is precious. Make not just good resolutions and good intentions. Make the most of every opportunity. As St. Paul says in Colossians 3:17, "And whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him."

In this New Year, use your most precious, irreplaceable treasure—your time—to serve the Lord with gladness. Even as the Lord has blessed you in ages past, He will bless you in the year to come, and He will finally grant you the gift of everlasting time in the eternal bliss of heaven.

2014 Poinsettia Donations

Thank you to all who donated poinsettias to beautify our church this Christmas; to Paul Haley for constructing new displays for poinsettias and lilies, which were used for this first time this Christmas; to Barb Dillenbeck for arranging the plants; and to the youth and all who helped decorate. There were many comments from visitors about how beautifully our church was decorated!

Voters Assembly January 11

The first quarterly meeting of the Voters Assembly for 2015 will be on Sunday, January 11, following the worship service. An item of special consideration will be proposed revisions to the congregation's Constitution and Bylaws.

The Church Council will meet in advance of the Voters Assembly, on Tuesday, January 6 at 7:00pm.

Thank you to all those providing snacks for Coffee Hour during December and throughout all of 2014! Could you—individual, family, or group—serve snacks sometime after worship during 2015? Consider signing up for special occasions such as birthdays or anniversaries.

There is a sign-up sheet for the New Year on the table with the snacks. Our Generations group has generously agreed to provide and prepare the coffee and juice each week! So those signing up are only asked to provide some treat.

Thank you to all those providing snacks for Coffee Hour!

Extra Communion Sundays

In response to requests from members, the Board of Elders and Church Council have decided to offer Holy Communion twice during the months of November thru February, due to the potential for severe weather during the winter months which may prevent some from attending on some Sundays. During those months we will have Holy Communion on both the 1st and 3rd Sundays.

Adult Bible Study

We are continuing our study in Adult Bible Class on The Week that Changed the World. In this fascinating study we are exploring the events of Holy Week, which are so central to our faith, using a booklet that shows side-by-side the accounts of these events from the four Gospels.

You are invited to join in on Sundays at 9:00am in the Overflow to grow in your faith, and your understanding of the real significance of Christ's suffering, death, and resurrection and The Week That Changed the World.

Our congregation helps support these missionaries sent out by The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod through our mission contributions. Each month we remember in prayer in our worship services—and you are encouraged to remember in your personal prayers—specific missionaries around the world who are supported in this way by our congregation.

Former Muslims Baptized at LCMS Partner Congregation

From the LCMS Reporter

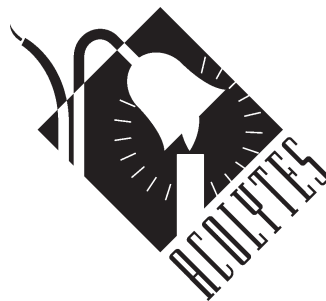

On August 4, 2014, a newspaper in Leipzig, Germany ran an article with the headline, "Leipzig's Most Dangerous Baptisms: Here Muslims Become Christians."

The article was referring to the baptisms of four former Muslims on July 27 at St. Trinitatisgemeinde (Holy Trinity Lutheran Church) in Leipzig, a congregation of the Independent Evangelical Lutheran Church (SELK), which is separate from the state church and in partnership with the LCMS.

On that Sunday, Rev. Hugo Gevers, SELK missionary to the migrant population of Leipzig, baptized a husband and wife along with two other men. A special feature of these Baptisms was that during the time when the candidate denounces the devil and his works, these former Muslims also denounced their former faith. In a pointed reversal of the traditional Islamic profession of faith, they boldly proclaimed, "I renounce Islam, and confess that neither is the Koran God's revelation, nor is Mohammed God's prophet."

It was a poignant moment, Gevers pointed out, because many of these new Christians actually had Christian ancestors, who centuries ago had been forced by threats of death to renounce Christianity and covert to Islam. Now, their descendants have returned to the faith—not out of fear, but in sincere faith and with great joy.

However, this joyous moment was also for them a fearful turning point in their lives. For, as they confessed the one true faith in the Apostles' Creed, and then Rev. Gevers spoke the Baptismal formula and poured water on their heads in the Name of the Triune God, they were not only are marked as children of God, sharers in Christ's death and resurrection, and members of God's family. At that moment they were also marked for death—the punishment prescribed in the Koran for leaving Islam, and still often carried out against those who convert to Christianity, even in Western countries such as Germany.

Despite such threats, 49-year-old Eizadi Shahriyar says of his Baptism, "This was very beautiful for me. It was as if I knocked on a door, and it opened, and everything was wonderful. . . I have hope now. Everything is different in my life. My outlook on the future is also very different. . . To me the peace that I have in faith is most important, and therefore I do not think of the fear anymore."

Rev. Hugo Gevers administers Holy Baptism to former Muslim Eizadi Shahriyar at St. Trinitatisgemeinde (Holy Trinity Lutheran Church) in Leipzig, Germany.

Mission Sunday February 1

We will observe Mission Sunday on February 1, with a mission-themed morning worship service, followed by a potluck dinner and presentation.

For the service, Pastor Vogts' mission message will be "Spread the News!" based on Mark 1:40-45. After the service, everyone is invited to bring your favorite dishes and stay for a potluck dinner.

We will then enjoy a presentation by Trinity's own Chloe Rausch, about a trip she recently took to Mexico with support from Trinity's Endowment Fund.

In case of bad weather the backup date for our Mission Sunday activities is the following Sunday, February 8.

BIRTHDAYS & ANNIVERSARIES

We list birthdays and anniversaries in the newsletter each month and the bulletin each week. However, our records may not complete. If your information is missing or inaccurate, please accept our apologies and notify the Church Office at 849-3344 or email Church Secretary Stacey Elkinton at blocktcl@midwest-connections.com.

Christmas
Eve
Children's Program

The children of Trinity Sunday School did a wonderful job sharing the Christmas story at the Christmas Eve Children's Program and Candlelight Service.

The beautiful service closed with the children singing the first verse of "Silent Night" in German and the congregation joining in to sing the rest by candlelight.

Thank you to Stacey Elkinton for these photos. Check the Photo Gallery on our church website for more photos at www.trinitylcms.org/photos.

Thank you to the Sunday School Teachers for their wonderful work with Trinity's Sunday School Children to present a really meaningful Christmas Program.
